Illustration Studio!

Drawing is fun, and so is telling stories! Illustration is how you can do both at the same time, sharing what you can imagine in your mind's eye from a story and putting it down on paper. In this class, you'll join a real-life artist and learn how to tell stories through colorful pictures drawn by you! Without words, pictures can say so much, and your drawings will too! Bring your imagination and let your artwork do the talking as we let our creativity show the different ways each of us might visualize some of our favorite stories.
